

ANA BRENES

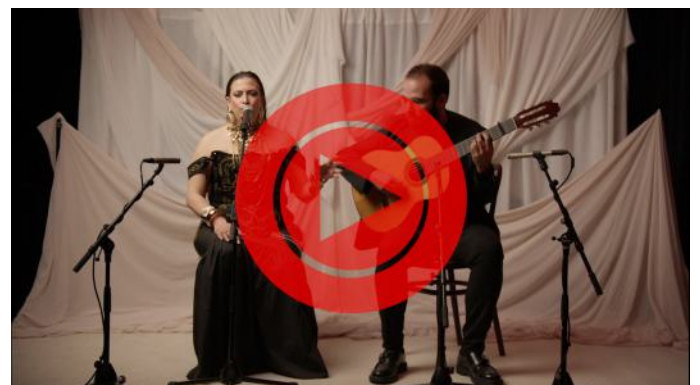

Ana Brenes is a renowned singer, composer, and teacher in Catalan flamenco. With a versatile career, her style moves between the purity of traditional flamenco and contemporary experimentation.

After studying and training diligently, immersing herself in the knowledge of her parents -both artists- gathering experience from stage to stage, experimenting, discovering her voice and its expressive possibilities, Ana Brenes has taken control of her career and embarked on her own path. She engages in a dialogue with herself, music, and poetry, with her body, imagination, and experiences, composing and writing within the forms of a flamenco that breathes the present and dreams of the future.

A contemporary cantaora and a boundless creator, Ana walks the paths of art with both respect and audacity, weaving a language of her own.

With her talent, she has conquered international stages, carried out innovative collaborations, and earned the recognition of a community that sees in her the reflection of a flamenco that embodies both deep roots and evolution, purity and exploration.
